

Information Systems and e-Business Management

The journal provides a forum for the research communities in the fields of information systems and e-business to exchange state-of-the-art developments and research. The journal seeks to publish forward-thinking, groundbreaking work concerning the interplay between information systems, business digitization, e-commerce, enterprise strategy, and management. The journal is one of the first to emphasize well-established information systems research as much as research in the emerging fields of e-business and e-commerce, in order to facilitate active synergies:

- The journal provides a vibrant forum for both academicians and industry specialists.
- It promotes innovative research on all aspects of information systems and e-business management from the system, analytical, behavioural, economic, strategic, organizational, and technological perspectives.
- It ensures the rapid dissemination of the latest research and innovation in the context of a rigorous peer review process.
